priates $350,000.Cincinnati, April 3.—Flood warnings for the Cincinnati district were issued by local government weather forecasters today. The river is rising above Cincinnati, and the tributaries are pouring out volumes of water as a result of the heavy rains.Memphis, Tenn., April 3.—With water pouring into the lowlands from a dozen gaps in the levees and threatening at any minute to crush in the main embankment, the flood situation along the Mississippi was today grave. Hundreds of men are guarding the river banks, ready to give the alarm, should more breaks occur.Hickman, Ky., April 3.—Where the levees have already broken, the country is flooded to a depth of twenty feet.1000 RESCUED.—It was estimated today that supplies now on hand in Hickman will last for possibly four days. It will be impossible to get trains into the town for a week or more. When the levees at Dorena on the Missouri side of the river broke yesterday, volunteers from Hickman went to the scene by the score. A thousand persons were rescued. Through the day and late in the evening boats passed to and fro bringing their loads of human freight to the Kentucky side. Many were rescued from the tops of their houses.

WORST IN 20 YEARS.

Lexington, Ky., April 3.—Reports from Eastern Kentucky today say the Kentucky, Red, Cumberland and Big Sandy rivers and all smaller streams are rising rapidly, and the worst flood conditions in 20 years are feared.St. Louis, Mo., April 3.—With Hickman, Ky. under twenty feet of water and two thousand persons without shelter, with reports of broken levees at Commerce, in Scott County, Mo., Bird's Mill, back of Bird's Point, Mo., with the entire town of McClure, Ill., under water, New Madrid, Mo., inundated by waters from the Mississippi and with a portion of the city of Memphis six feet under water, the Mississippi and Ohio rivers at their confluence, reached the highest mark in their history and reports indicate there will be still greater water, bringing the greatest flood damage ever recorded in America.Bearing out this fear comes an alarming report from Kansas City, stating that the crest of the flood is passing, a foot above the danger mark, which means that the Mississippi will be swollen still further. The Wabash, Illinois and Missouri rivers are also above the flood stages.The breaking of the levee at Hickman, Ky., to some extent relieved the strain at Cairo, Ill.Work of building up the levees was renewed with fresh vigor. Half the women of the town have joined in the work by supplying hot coffee and lunches, working day and night relays while the men toil on the banks.Panic-stricken citizens prepared for the worst by moving their household effects to upper stories. Pianos and automobiles were placed in storage warehouses and St. Patrick's Catholic church was thrown open for persons wishing to store pianos.When the levee broke at Bird's Mill, Lee Foggy, a negro, was drowned when he was eating breakfast.At Quincy, Ill., the river rose a foot yesterday, and the lowlands inbusiness between Cairo and Monu-City, Ill., detouring its trains via the Illinois Central. The Iron Mountain is also dispatching its trains between the Cairo and Thebes bridge. Word from McClure, Ill., just above Cape Girardeau, on the Illinois side, is that the town itself is flooded, but that the land behind the levee is protected from overflow.An appeal has been sent to the secretary of war to have the government fleet, tied up at Cairo, sent to the relief of the stock in the overflowed district back of Cairo. Stock has sought refuge on high ground and in many cases is entirely surrounded by water and in danger of drowning.Business was suspended at Cairo yesterday by the mayor's proclamation; so everybody could work on the levees. Professional men worked side by side with negroes and Italians on Cairo's levees. They "tolerated" sacks as long as they could hold out. Negroes have shown a great reluctance to go out and work. A force of 200 Macedonians was brought in by the Illinois Central last night.Word from Secretary of War Stimson to Congressman Thistlewood stated that Congress had been given to the entire government fleet on the Mississippi river, directing them to render what aid they could to the flood sufferers. An appeal also was made to Governor Owen, asking that he call out Company K, Fourth regiment, I. N. G., for flood duty, and the order came late last evening.At Pt. Pleasant, Mo., where the river went through several days ago, a mile of levee is gone. The lowlands are flooded to a depth of four to five feet and the water is pouring into the St. Francis River Basin.
This is all the immediate basin of that river can stand.Linda, Mo., is threatened at that point the bank has caved to a point of danger and every available man is at work building a short loop around the danger zone.In Tennessee the levee in Ohio county, which protects Reelfoot Lake from flood water, is already being topped and sand bags are being tied back the levee in an effort to hold back the flood.South of Memphis the levees are flooded, but many thousands of acres outside the main embankment are under water and the inhabitants have sought safety on the hills.Memphis proper is facing a serious situation. In North Memphis, back water from Wolf River, a tributary of the Mississippi, has overflowed Bayou Gavissipi. Several hundred families have been driven from their homes, and a score or more indutrial plants have been forced to suspend. Along Wolf River only two of the numerous sawmills are in operation.The city's gas plant is surrounded by water and pumps are being worked continuously to remove the seepage. Should the pumps fail, it is stated that within an hour the plant would be out of commission.The reserve supply of gas in the reservoirs would supply Memphis for not more than 16 hours. Sewers of the north Memphis station were rendered useless yesterday.Train service is demoralized. The Illinois Central railroad is sending northbound trains through several levees and water, and along the Louisiville & Nashville water as gradually covering the tracks. Arrangements have been made to detour trains about the flooded district.The greatest sudden flood tide in the history of the Cumberland Valley is sweeping the entire watershed of that river, and with the almost tropical downpour the damage to property will run into millions.At Burnside, in the upper Cumberland section, there was a 26-foot rise the gauge going to 54 feet. The danger line of 43 feet at Nashville was passed and the prediction is made that 50 feet will be reached today.Levees on both sides of the Mississippi have protected this vicinity from damage, but one point in the East Cape levee weakened last night. Farmers are strengthening it in its history.A number of deaths due to the flood have been reported in Tennessee.
The train bearing the body of United States Senator Bob Taylor from Washington to Nashville, was detained by the flood all day yesterday in the mountains of Virginia, near the Tennessee line.Passenger trains have been operated with difficulty out of Cairo, Ill. The Big Four is entirely out ofthe levee with sacks of sand turnish-ed by the Frisco railroad.
A large force of men is working to save the Frisco tracks at Cape Rock, north of here. Trains between here and Memphis are being operated over the Cotton Belt system and Gulf division trains of the Frisco are being detoured over another division to get into this city.A number of farmers and their families were forced to flee from their homes north of East Cape, Ill., yesterday, and seek refuge on the Missouri side.Citizens of New Madrid have asked Governor Hadley to send the Sixth regiment of the Missouri National Guard to assist the people in Southeastern Missouri, whose homes and lands are now under water.State Senator Oliver, who is colonel of the Sixth regiment, decided, however, the militia could not render the flood-stricken people any valuable assistance.As far south as New Orleans, precautionary work is being done. Gov.
Sanders of Louisiana issued special instructions to press every available workman into immediate service in strengthening the levees of the state. Thousands of men and teams are working all along the flooded stream, and special trains, wherever available, are carrying supplies.CONGRESS APPROPRIATES $350,000 FOR RELIEFWashington, D. C., April 3.—Witnessing a few hours after the president had sent a special message to Congress calling attention to the disaster and damage being wrought by the Mississippi floods, Congress passed a bill appropriating $350,000 to relieve the situation and the measure was laid before the president for his signature.The president immediately approved the bill, although it appropriates $150,000 less than he recommended, and the money is now available for the work of protecting the contingent territory in the Mississippi Valley and for the relief of those sections now being devastated.HIGH WATER AT ZANESVILLE
OVER STREETSZanesville, O., April 3.—The Muskingum river continued to rise during the night, and this morning the overflow submerged the city electric railway. All connections with the business centers were cut off.

GEN. GRANT IN SECLUSION.

Tampa, Fla., April 3.—Major General Frederick D. Grant, commander of the Department of the East, who has been ill at the home of Mrs.
Potter Palmer in Manatee county, Fla., has sufficiently recovered to move to a resort further south, where he and his relatives have succeeded in eluding publicity. The statement was made that the general was rapidly convalescing and that he soon would be able to return to his post at Governor's Island.

SENATOR GARDNER ELECTED.

Augusta, Me., April 3.—United States Senator Obadiah Gardner, Democrat, received a majority of the votes cast in both branches of the legislature yesterday for United States senator to serve the remaining of the term ending March 4, 1913. Senator Gardner was appointed by Governor Plaisted upon the death of Senator Wm. P. Frye.
Republican, to serve until the legislature should choose a successor.

VACATION ENDS

The Easter recess of Denison University closes tonight and classes will resume their meetings Thursday morning. A number of the students reached the city today over the steam and electric lines and transferred to the interurban line running to the college town.BOARD FAVORS THE AGREEMENTColumbus, Aug. 3.—Members of the board of United Mine Workers of district No. 6 today finished discussing local conditions governing wage scales through the district. Members of the board expressed themselves unanimously in favor of the Cleveland settlement.Cleveland, April 3.—Recognition of the miners' union appears to stand out along as one of the demands to be taken up by the anthracite operators and miners at their Philadelphia meeting next week. The district officers have received numerous delegations reporting that their local unions insist that this demand be pressed.London, April 3.—Albert Stanley, secretary of the Midland Mines Federation and member of the House of Commons, practically announced the end of the national coal strike in the United Kingdom this afternoon. He declared that the miners' vote now being taken showed a desire to resume work.KANSAS CITY DEMOCRATICKansas City, April 3.—Henry L.
Jost, 31 years old, a Democrat, was elected mayor of Kansas City yesterday over Darin A. Brown, Republican (incumbent), by a majority estimated at 3500 votes.BELIEVED 130 HAVE PERISHED IN WRECKPerth, Australia, April 3.—One hundred and thirty lives have been lost, it is feared, in the wreck of the steamer Koomba during a typhoon. The storm subsided today and soon afterward great quantities of wreckage, including the deckhouses, boats and life rafts, began washing upon the beach near here. Relief tugs have been sent to search for the survivors.SAILOR DID NOT COMMIT
THE MURDERPensacola, Fla., April 3.—Seth Nichols, the sailor who confessed to the police that he had murdered Dr.
Helen Knabe, at Indianapolis in October did not commit the crime. He was aboard a United States battleship at the time, according to naval officials by wireless today. Neither did Nichols desert his ship, Dixie. He was discharged because of conduct prejudicial to the navy.DEMOCRATS WIN IN CHICAGOChicago, April 3.—Twenty-five Democratic and 11 Republican aldermen were elected and bond issues carrying an expenditure of $5,630,- 000 were voted in the election here yesterday.A bitter factional fight between the adherents of Mayor Harrison and Roger Sullivan, Democratic national committeeman from Illinois, marked the Democratic aldermanic race. The Sullivan followers lost, 18 of the victorious Democrats being aligned with the Harrison wing. The Harrison Democrats were particularly interested in eight candidates and six of them were elected.

TRAIN KILLS GIRL

Scranton, Pa., April 3.—Lonise Burns, 17, of Moosic, was killed on the Delaware & Hudson railroad near her home, and her companion, Raymond Curl, 19, narrowly escaped a similar fate.
She and young Curl were walking along the railroad toward the girl's home and had started to crawl under a freight train on a siding when the train started up.

KILLS TO SAVE MOTHER.

Pittsburg, April 3.—James Magill, 19, shot and killed his stepfather, Gottlieb Hase, 50, and su-rendered to the police, saying he killed his stepfather to avenge his mother for cruelty lasting through several years.LA FOLLETTE BEATS TAFT IN WISCONSIN BY 150,000Milwaukee, Wis., April 3.—Although returns from yesterday's presidential primary received up to noon show that Speaker Champ Clark will be close to Wilson on the Democratic ticket, leading newspapers of the state have agreed that final results will show as follows. Senator LaFollette has taken every district from President Taft by a vote of 2 to 1.President Taft surprised LaFollette managers by the support given him in nearly all districts.Madison, Wis., April 3.—Returns today from all parts of the state, in yesterday's presidential preference primary, indicate that Senator Robert M. LaFollette has carried Wisconsin over President Taft by a vote of 150,- 000 and that he will have the entire 26 delegates at hand when he enters the Republican convention at Chicago.Three delegates are still in doubt, but late indications are that they will go to the Wisconsin senator.

STEAL CHURCH FUNDS.

Cleveland, April 3.—Three men broke into the parish house of St.
Paul's Croatian Roman Catholic church and looted the safe of about $1000 of church funds. A man supposed to be one of the trio was captured and had in his possession a satchel containing $428.MAY ESTABLISH PATROL STATION
IN WEST NEWARKWar broke out again in the foreign colony in Seroos avenue, Wehrle Addition Tuesday night and Patrolmen Swinehart, Petery and Coider were sent to the scene to quiet the disorder.
They arrested Nick Tony and Abraham Wolf, changing them with disorderly conduct. They were fined $5 and costs in police court.The police department is considering the installation of a patrol station in the Wehrle Addition as there are numerous calls from that neighborhood which makes a run of nearly three miles for the patrol houses. On busy nights this long trip is hard on the horses.LANCASTER WOMAN WAS ACQUITTEDMrs. Nancy Hall Not Guilty of Murder of Daughter Ruth

JURY OUT THREE HOURS

Huband Embraced Wife in Court After Verdict Had Been Read by the Clerk.Lancaster, April 3.—After an absence of nearly three months, held in the county jail on a charge of first degree murder for the alleged murder of her 12-year-old daughter, Ruth, who died December 12 last, after breakfasting on pancakes containing arsenic, Mrs. Nancy Hall was back in her home today."Not guilty," was the verdict returned last night after three hours' deliberation.
"The strain has been terrible," said Mrs. Hall today, and "thank God, who knew all the time that I was innocent, that at last I am able to again be at home with my loved ones. The faith and support of my friends and neighbors in the dark hours of accusation, will ever be remembered."As the verdict was announced last night the accused woman was embraced by her husband, and as the last words of the jury's verdict fell from the lips of Court Clerk J. Fauble, a happy smile was seen on the face of the mother.Obedient to the warning of Judge Reeves there was no demonstration when the verdict was read. Congratulations which were showered on Mrs.
Hall after she left the courtroom were conciliatory. The trial was intensely popular. As the jury filed out of the room they were given hearty handshakes by Mrs.
Hall's sisters and husband.The defense yesterday took two physicians to Mrs. Hall's cell, and the examination disclosed that she was unfit physically to go on the stand in her own behalf. Other witnesses subpoenaed for her were not used, as the defense lawyer, yesterday afternoon, brought his case to an abrupt close.When Prosecuting Attorney Courtright had finished his argument the defense announced the waiver of its right to argue and thus it cut off Assistant Prosecutor M. A. Daugherty's opportunity to complete the state's argument.During Judge Reeves' charge to the jury he intimated that he would hold the case as first degree murder or nothing.Mrs. Hall as seemed to grow confident of acquittal as both sides rested. She brightened up, whispered to her little daughter Mary and glanced at her neighbors for almost the first time since her trial began.ILLINOIS WET AND DRY ELECTIONSChicago, April 3.—One hundred and fifty-four cities and towns of Illinois voted on the provisions of the local option law yesterday. Returns indicate that the advantage was slightly on the wet side. The dries, however, were jubilant over a victory they assert they won in Rockford, transforming it for the second time from a wet to a dry city by a majority of 307.The most notable wet victories were in Galesburg, Monmouth, Marengo, Taylorville and Carlin. Galesburg had been dry for four years.Incomplete returns show that 17 cities and towns which were wet voted dry and 24 which were dry voted wet. Sixty-three towns and cities which had been dry voted to remain that column and 64 voted to remain wet.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION

IMPORTANT TO EVERYONE.

It is now conceded by physicians that they kidneys should have more attention, as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance, when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich, heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, inability to hold urine, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, may be weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

An herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates, has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had the most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp Root, by mail, absolutely free. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention the Newark Daily Advocate.

FUN FOR THE "KIDDIES" IN PAINTING THESE AMUSING EGG MEN FOR EASTER.

Easter time, like Christmas, is dedicated primarily to the children, and so the question of finding something which will interest and amuse them is important. One suggestion which is universally practiced is the coloring of Easter eggs. For the benefit of those not familiar with the best method of setting about this work, the following directions are given: Wash color paints will do, but the Japanese transparent water colors that come in sheets will give better results. You can accomplish the decorating in half a time if you have two camel-hair brushes, the finest point for the outlines and a larger point for filling in work. Whatever paints you use, only moisten the brushes and rub well on the colors used, then the eggs will not have a dead, flat appearance. Wash the egg color dries thoroughly before adding another. Try and select odd-shaped eggs which will help to give different expressions. Use white eggs for the watercolor, colored faces, potatoes and football, brown eggs for the Chinamen, Japs or Indians. To make the colored faces outline the eyes and mouth with sepia and black. After this dries fill in the face or cover the whole egg with the same color, using a little more water on the brush. When dry go over the outlines again with sepia and black for the hair. You can make any style or expression to suit your fancy. If the eggs are to be played with, it is best to hold them first.

GAME SUNDAY AT BALL LOT

Manager Grim Will Try To Put On Exhibition Contest If the Weather Permits.

It really begins to look like the baseball season is here. Manager Grim announced today that a game would be played Sunday at Wehrle Park, providing, of course, the weather man consents. The live players who were ordered here from Springfield, together with those who will probably report before that time, will be sufficient to make up a team and some of the local youngsters may join the squad. The C. M. A. team will probably be the opposing aggregation. Further announcement of the details will be made later.

Will Roll Outfield. Arrangements are being made for extensive work on the grounds at Wehrle Park within the next few days. A big roller will be used on the outfield to smooth out the rough places, and the fence blown down last winter during a heavy windstorm, will be replaced. Manager Grim hopes to get his squad into action tomorrow if the good weather continues.

Bid To Big Game. Manager Grim has received an invitation to attend the opening game at Detroit. The invitation came per Business Manager Weiffenbach will the necessary admission ticket accompanied the "bid." Manager Grim will send his regrets. He will be too busy here to get away, however much he would like to see the big leaguers in action.

Billy Burke, Park Police. Business Manager Weiffenbach will make numerous changes at the park during the next ten days. He has been busy arranging the details and getting ready for the real opening in a week or so. The score board will be changed. The company has taken out insurance protection and will guard against every possible loss. The business manager announced today that Billy Burke would be the regular park policeman on duty continually at the ball lot.

GRIM GETS 6 RECRUITS FROM SPRINGFIELD

Manager Grim has been notified by Manager Hank O'Day that the Reapers' pilot had ordered five of his recruits to report forthwith to Newark. The names of the players were not given but they include two catchers, two outfielders and a pitcher. The men were expected today but they failed to arrive. They will probably come in tonight.

A special dispatch late this afternoon from Springfield states that the six players released to Newark are Catchers Vayner and Puskil; Infielder Fahry; Outfielder Murphy, and Pitchers Seager and Bales. The dispatch adds that all the players are promising but were sent to Newark to reduce the training squad at Springfield.

The Epworth League and Y. P. C. U. will hold a union meeting in the Universalist church next Sunday evening, Easter tide. A welcome to all.

Nature has made ample provision in the sunshine and moisture of the air for the outward life and protection of the skin, but the more important work of nourishing the cuticle has been left to an inward source—the blood. It is from the circulation that the pores and glands receive their support, and the fibrous tissues are all preserved in a healthful state because of constant nourishment supplied by the blood.

So long as the blood is pure and rich the skin will be free from eruptions or disease, but when the circulation becomes infected with acids and humors its nourishing and healthful properties are greatly diminished, and this acid, humor-laden condition causes irritation and inflammation of the delicate tissues and fibres. Then the effect is shown in Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some other distressing, disfiguring skin disease.

Humors and impurities get into the blood through a deranged or inactive condition of the system. Those members whose duty it is to collect and expel the refuse matter of the system fail to properly do their work, and this surplus or waste matter is left in the system to sour and be absorbed into the blood.

The cause of all skin diseases can be traced to some humor or acid in the blood. Smooth, healthy skins are only possible where the circulation is pure; and therefore the cure of any skin affection can only come from a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are valuable only for their ability to keep the skin clean, allay superficial irritation, or soften the hardened cuticle. Such treatment cannot cure because it does not reach the blood where the cause is located, and to depend upon such measures alone usually results in the aggravation and spreading of any skin trouble.

S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing all humors or other impurities from the blood.

I suffered with a bad case of Eczema for over 12 years, and I tried everything I heard of. Nothing helped me until I began to use S. S. S. I commenced this medicine and the Eczema soon began to gradually disappear. I continued taking S. S. S., and it completely cured the disease and every blemish and eruption left. The sores and itching so characteristic of this trouble have entirely left, and I am sound and well. Mrs. Chas. Gill, 50 Clinton St., Newark, N. J.

It cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, pimples, boils, rashes and all eruptions of the cuticle. These troubles cannot remain when the cause has been removed, and S. S. S. will certainly remove the cause by purifying the blood. Book on Skin Diseases and medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Cathartics Tend To Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. They are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not purge, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in three size packages, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store, Hall's Drug Store, 10 North Side Square.

THE FIRST GRAY HAIR SIGN OF AGE

Easy Way to Preserve Natural Color of the Hair and Make it Grow.

A harmless remedy, made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair, to prevent it from losing its color and lustre, is just as important to care for teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion and yet neglect the hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a good complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden Sage and Sulphur, combined with other valuable remedies for dry, harsh, faded hair, dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair. After a few applications of this simple, harmless remedy, your hair will gradually be restored to its natural color. In a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out but will start to grow as Nature intended it should.

Don't neglect your hair, for it goes further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy—at any drug store for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give your money back Purchase a bottle today. You will if you are not satisfied after using, never regret it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance. Frank D. Hall, agent.

SPRAYING THE APPLE ORCHARD

By F. H. BALLOU.

We are often asked "why is it that the production of perfect fruit, within more recent years, involves so many problems, disappointments and discouragements? Why does not the fruit grow sound and perfect as in the early years? There are very good reasons why the perplexities have come about—interesting reasons too—but we shall not attempt, within the limited scope of a newspaper article, to fully discuss the very natural development of the seeding agencies in horticulture. It will be sufficient to remind the inquirer that we are living in a period of aging and intensifying agriculture. Nature's balance so admirably maintained throughout the centuries preceding the advent of civilization, has long been destroyed by the clearing away of forests and the planting of considerable areas to special crops. Insects which subsisted upon the scattered fruits of primitive days, and which were of a great measure held in check by their natural enemies and by the many birds of that period, have been permitted, in more recent years and under the new order of things, to concentrate and multiply in destructive measure in the thousands of fruit tree plantations throughout our country. Some have been introduced from foreign lands. Certain fungous and bacterial diseases, to which, in a limited way, the native fruits have been more or less subject, and those of more recent introduction from the older countries of the world, on nursery trees and plants, have likewise spread, flourished and prevailed in all their destructive intensity in the ever-increasing orchard areas. These now well recognized limiting factors of insect-life and fungous and bacterial diseases are with us to stay. They present a restrictive agency in the production of the world's fruit supply. But they come as a blessing in disguise; for, while they are quite subject to control by the studious, skillful, industrious horticulturist or home owner, they are gradually but surely eliminating the thoughtless, careless orchard owner from competition.

The Principal Orchard Enemies.
While there are many species of insects which infest the tree, foliage and fruit of the apple, there are three which give us special concern. These are the San Jose scale, the plum and apple curculios (especially the former) and the codling moth. In employment of the more effective means of combating these the less important species will likewise be effectually controlled.

Of the diseases the apple scab fungus is by far the more prevalent and serious. In the lower levels, and especially in seasons of abundant rainfall, the "sooty blotch" or "sooty fungus" quite commonly attacks the fruit and renders it blackened and unsightly; but this disease rarely gives trouble on the higher elevations where bright sunshine, unobstructed air circulation and a consequently drier atmosphere prevail.

Apple blotch and bitter rot are diseases very destructive in their nature, but are by no means so common as apple scab and sooty fungus.

This list of the more common insect and fungous enemies may seem a discouraging and formidable one; but the orchard owner should rejoice and take courage from the fact that, even if all these exist within and menace his orchard, he may completely control them with four thorough sprayings per year, produce a high percentage of sound fruit and keep his trees clean and healthy.

Preparation of the Orchard for Spraying.
While not absolutely necessary it is a very great help and especially where San Jose scale is present, to thoroughly renovate the trees by pruning and scraping. Shorten in some of the higher branches as well as those which extend horizontally beyond the average of their companion branches. Saw out all the dead wood and thin the living branches where they crowd, cross or conflict in any way. If the outer twig growth be too dense to freely admit the air and sunshine after the foliage develops, thin out this growth using a keen-edged pruning shear. Scrape all of the old, scaly bark from the bodies and larger branches of the trees, using a dull hand hoe for this purpose.

The Spraying Equipment.
I wish I might sufficiently impress the mind of the reader with the truth that success and satisfaction in spraying depend very largely upon the equipment—upon the spray pump and its accessories. The mistake most commonly made by owners of farm orchards is to buy small, inefficient spraying outfits. Attempting to spray even a small number of trees of moderate size, with a bucket or knapsack sprayer is comparable to the old time method of cutting the grain with a sickle or attacking a large meadow with a scythe. Do not understand by this that it is necessary to invest in a power outfit or one that is, in cost, out of proportion to the service it should be expected to perform. For the average farm orchard a well-made "barrel pump" will give excellent satisfaction. The more prominent spray pump manufacturers advertise in all of the leading farm and garden papers. Send for catalogues and compare styles and prices. There can hardly be said to be, in these days of keen competition among pump firms when spraying outfits must possess a certain degree of merit in order to meet with recognition on the market, any one "best" spray pump. The buyer must largely decide for himself. However, a word as to the better type of pump may be of some service. A spray pump that attaches to the side of a barrel rather than to the end is, in a number of ways superior. This permits the barrel to lie on its side on a rack of some form as will hold it securely, standing on end is much more liable to tip over on sloping ground, and the height of the pump handle is too great to reach conveniently unless a box be used for the operator to stand on. By all means keep clear of the clumsy, heavy, cast-iron type. The writer prefers the all-brass, submerged cylinder type, with solid brass or copper bail Nothing ever cleansed the blood, the bowels and the liver like Olive Tablets.

Olive Tablets are the only successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Olive Tablets do all that calomel does and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

USED KNIFE IN WRANGLE AT UNION MEETING

The Plasterers' Union held a meeting Tuesday night, one of unusual interest to the members. Not from the importance of the business transacted but because there was a bit of excitement.

As a result, a warrant was issued for the arrest of William Merrick charging assault on William J. Vine, an officer of the organization. It is alleged that Merrick took exception to a motion offered by Vine and stepped across the lodge room and planted an open-handed blow on Vine's face. It is claimed that in the fight that followed Merrick whipped out a knife and made a slash at Vine, the blade of the weapon ripping in Vine's coat. Vine escaped, fortunately, without a scratch.

An effort was made Tuesday night to cause Merrick's arrest but the police refused to take him from his home without a warrant. The document was issued Wednesday.

Relieves Catarrhal Deafness.

The thousands who suffer the miseries of colds and catarrh and claim they have never found a cure can get instant relief by simply anointing the nostrils with Ely's Cream Balm.

Unlike internal medicines which upset the stomach or strong snuffs which only aggravates the trouble, this cleansing, healing, antiseptic Balm instantly reaches the seat of the trouble, stops the nasty discharge, clears the nose, head and throat, and brings back the sense of taste, smell and improves hearing. More than this, it strengthens the weakened and diseased tissues, thus protecting you against a return of the trouble. This remedy will cure a cold in a day, and prevent its becoming chronic or resulting in catarrh.

Nasal catarrh is an inflammation of the membrane lining the passages, and cannot be reached by mixtures taken into the stomach, nor can it be cured by snuffs and powders which only cause additional irritation. Don't waste time on them. Get a 50 cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and after using it for a day you will wish you had tried it sooner.

MILADY'S TOILET TABLE

By MRS. D'VILLE.

Of all the various means devised for removal of superfluous hairs from the face or forearms I have found delicate past the most effective and satisfactory. Mix a few drops of lemon juice with enough water to cover the hairs; apply, and after two or three minutes wipe off, and the hairs will be gone. Some cosmetics tend to darken and discolor the skin. Never use these. If you want a true complexion beautify, instantly in effect, by making less and lasting, dissolve an original package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel and rub a little on the face, neck and arms each morning. Mayatone will not come off or show like powder and keeps the skin soft, fair and youthful looking.

There always is danger of catching cold after washing the head. Dry shampooing makes hair beautifully lustrous and full of life. To make shampoo powder put a cupful of corn meal (or four ounces of powdered orris root) in a fruit jar and mix with it an original package of mayatone. Sprinkle on head and brush out. This brushes out easily and takes with it all dirt, dandruff and excess oil.

As a result of bucking colds and unseasonable weather thousands suffer from colds. An old-fashioned remedy is Mother's Salve. In fifty years millions of jars have been used for the treatment of colds in head or chest, catarrh and ordinary cases of sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck and asthma.

To Remove Ferment Germs from Fruit Jars

If fruit has once spoiled in a jar, the same thing will happen again unless the jar has been thoroughly cleansed and sterilized. It is not enough to merely wash the jars; they should be boiled. To make sure that they are in good condition, put them in a pan of cold water in which has been dissolved a tablespoon of Gold Dust washing powder; let come to a boil. The tops, also, should be immersed in boiling water, and old rubbers should never be used. After filling can, shake and screw top on carefully to avoid airholes.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Preliminary Work Of Housecleaning.

AFTER the housecleaning campaign has been mapped out, it will usually be found that certain preliminary work needs to be done. The ground, so to speak, has to be cleared before the real operations begin.

Some women like to go through their house and get every closet straightened out. If this will not entail disorder in every room, it is a good thing to do. In the same way, bureau drawers can be put in order, and the clothes that will not be needed for the season at hand, taken out.

But the most important part of this preliminary work is to get rid of the useless things that have accumulated during the winter. When the actual work of cleaning is on, with perhaps actual help engaged, one cannot afford to take the time to go over one's belongings and decide what shall be thrown away and what kept. All this work should be done in the weeks preceding the actual housecleaning.

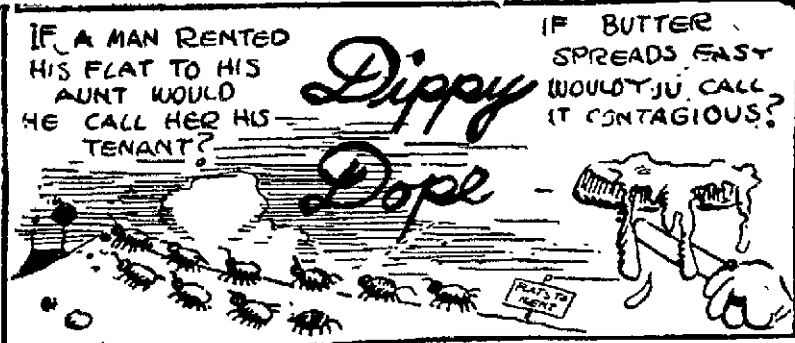

All articles of old clothing should be looked over and any part that is worth keeping, ripped off, and the rest discarded. Often, on hats, there are trimmings that may be useful another season, though the hat itself is useless. The trimming should be taken off and the frame discarded. It makes useless work to keep a dozen or so old hats around, when all that may ever be used is the trimming. In the same way, buttons and braid and lace may be ripped off dresses, if the frocks themselves are no good. All this takes time. But it is necessary to be done, if the house is to be kept shipshape.

The furniture also needs a general inspection to see what repairs may be required, or where a little paint or varnish may improve things. If there is a room where all such pieces can be collected and the work done all at once, it is the most expeditious way to put it through, and the most comfortable for the household. Glue, varnish, stain, sandpaper or pumice stone, the suitable brushes, all these necessities should be made ready. And then if all the work can be finished while the materials are all on hand, it is a great saving of time.

In the same way, the cleaning of spots on rugs or carpets or matting should be done beforehand, and all at one time if possible. The proper cleaning agents should be made ready, and then a tour of the rooms made and all spots cleaned out. This does not mean that the carpets and rugs will not need their usual beating and cleaning. This is just the taking out of grease spots, or other marks that need special treatment. Often, not only are rugs and carpets spotted, but there are finger-marks on the wall paper, that need to be cleaned off. All this is part of the preliminary work that is better out of the way before the actual ordeal begins.

And then when the day is at hand for the active campaign to be inaugurated, see that everything in the way of tools is ready. Have plenty of good, serviceable cloths. Old rags that are mostly holes will not clean satisfactorily. You can't clean paint with a hole. See that scouring and polishing materials are ready, that the necessary brushes and brooms are on hand. It does not pay to keep those engaged to do the work waiting, while you run to the store for necessary supplies. Nor have you the strength to spare to do this, on the day when extra hard work awaits you.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Wise Man Who Forgot His Own Dinner

Isaac Got Out His Books and Studied.

EVELYN was absentminded—very. There were times when her forgetting got her into trouble and annoyed the family a good deal.

When daddy came in to tell Jack and Evelyn their bedtime story he had a funny look on his face.

He had just heard that Evelyn had that afternoon forgot to order from the groceryman the orange marmalade without which daddy's breakfast never seemed to taste right.

But daddy never scolded his little girl. Instead he always told her a nice story. And so he began:

"Once in the quaint old town of Woolthorpe, England, there was a lad named Isaac. He was not a very bright boy at his books, and his mother, who was a widow and wished her son to grow up to be a wise man, was often discouraged. Isaac would rather make toy windmills and water wheels than bother with his studies.

"But one year it happened that a big boy, a bully, was at the head of the class. He teased Isaac, who was an absentminded, dull boy, until Isaac felt he could not stand it any more.

"Isaac got out his books and studied with all his might. By and by he got even with the bully by being the best scholar and winning the place at the head of the class of which the other boy was so proud.

"But in making Isaac study so hard the bully had really done Isaac a good turn, for it had made him so fond of books that when he grew up he became the great scholar his mother had wished and one of the wisest men who has ever lived. His name was Isaac Newton.

"But one thing Isaac never got over was his forgetfulness. It seemed silly that so wise a man could not keep in mind the simplest things outside his studies. People laughed at him.

"The story told that one day a friend came to call on him at his home in Cambridge, England, where he was professor in one of the colleges. The dinner had been placed on the table, but as usual Isaac was behind time. So as a joke the friend sat down and, uncovering the dish on which was a fine young chicken, ate every bit of it. Then he put the cover on the dish again.

"Shortly after in came Isaac Newton. Lifting the cover off the dish, he saw only the bones of the chicken.

"'Dear me,' he said, 'I thought I had not dined, but I see I have.' And he would have had no dinner if the friend had not explained the joke.

"If forgetfulness was laughed at in a great man like Isaac Newton, who had so many important things to think of, just think how ridiculous it must seem in those of us who have only a few things to keep in mind."

The room was filled with unused furniture and most of this was destroyed, though the house was but slightly damaged.

He Paid the Bill.
Mik Clewie was brought into the court of Squire D. M. Jones Wednesday on complaint of Anna Bancel. After the arm of the law had been invoked, the parties concerned decided to arbitrate and their differences were settled. The 'squire dismissed the case on payment of the costs.

YAGER TWINS CASE RESERVED FOR DECISION

Suit Brought to Settle Right of Way in a Ten-Foot Alley—Other Court News.

The trial of the case of J. F. Cherry & Co. vs. the Yager Twins was commenced in common pleas court Tuesday and was submitted to the court on the testimony. The court reserved his decision. The suit is brought to settle the right of the Cherry Co. in a 10-foot alley running from West Main street north in the rear of store rooms fronting on the west side of North Fourth street. The Yager Twins are attempting to build a structure over the 10-foot alley and the suit is brought for the purpose of stopping them from proceeding with the erection of the same.

The claim of the plaintiff company is that the structure would be an interference with the rights that it has in the alley, by reason of it being a private alley belonging to all the property adjacent to it, east and west.

Harrison B. Case vs. Elisha J. Case, a suit to foreclose a mortgage. Judgment on answer and cross petition quieting title in Elisha Case.

Alimony Petition.
 By her attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, Ida Ballinger has filed a petition for alimony from John M. Ballinger. In her petition the plaintiff alleges abandonment and abuse on the part of the defendant and prays that the B. & O. R. R. Co. be enjoined from paying him $100 now due him in wages.

Transcript Filed.
 A transcript from the criminal docket of the court of Justice George W. Horton has been filed with the clerk of common pleas court in the case of Ohio against Charles Stricklin. The charge is failure to support a minor child.

Divorce Petition.
 Lida Moran has filed a petition in probate court asking a divorce from Cary Moran. The allegations of the petition are that the defendant abandoned the plaintiff, abused her and made false statements as to her character. The plaintiff prays alimony, custody of one child, and that the Ohio Fuel Supply Co. of Homer be restrained from paying the defendant $75 now due him in wages. Smythe & Smythe represent plaintiff.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.
 To the Advocate: To settle a dispute allow me to ask whether a couple of legal age can procure a state license to wed, or is it necessary to apply to the probate court in the county in which the young lady resides. Kindly publish answer in the Advocate.
 S. A. Sunbury, O.

The law relating to marriage provides that both parties must be of legal age and that a license therefor must be procured from the probate judge of the county where the woman resides. Both parties are required to appear in person when the application is made and each is required to swear to the truth of the necessary facts.

HAS PATENTED NEW DEVICES FOR POULTRY RAISERS

According to information given to the Advocate, the newly patented electric light, invented by C. O. Still, is working successfully and arrangements are being made to commercialize the new device.

David Kiene of the Ohio Electric offices has given Mr. Still a contract for installing the lights in his poultry plant and barn at his Maple avenue estate. Mr. Still says that any one wishing to see the device in operation can do so by visiting Mr. Kiene's poultry plant.

The inventor has also installed a patent cackler in Mr. Kiene's henery for experimental purposes. This device is said to imitate a hen's cackle so closely that the hiddies believe one of their number is announcing her progress as an egg producer and they seek to duplicate the performance, thus doubling the egg yield.

Theatre-goers are always certain of getting full value when Francis Wilson heads a company, for in everything this popular comedian does laughter reigns supreme. Francis Wilson has never had a role so congenial or one better suited to his personality than that of Thomas Beach, the bachelor hero of his successful comedy, "The Bachelor's Baby." Mr.
 Wilson, who is the author of the comedy, has divided it into three acts. With bright lines and clever epigrams, the comedian tells of a bachelor with an extreme dislike for children, who is made to change his front by a little niece. And he learns to love the little girl very dearly.

The Girl of My Dreams.

John Hyams and Lella McIntyre in Jos. M. Gates' delightful musical production, "The Girl of My Dreams," a two-act atmospheric play by Wilbur D. Nesbit and Otto Hauerbach, with music by Karl Hoschna, composer of "Three Twins," "Madame Sherry" and "Dr. De Luxe," will be the attraction at the Auditorium Thursday, April 11.

"The Girl of My Dreams" is a production of more than the usual attractiveness common to musical shows. It is a clean, fresh and exhilarating entertainment. It proves no end of delight to the children who attend the performances. It is youthful in spirit, a large proportion of its characters are schoolboys and girls who romp and play games on the stage. One of the best of the scenes is "Dear Little Games of Guessing," and finally in the last song the little tots are appealed to when Lella McIntyre gives "Doctor Tinkle Tinker of Old Toy Town."

 Both young ladies have excellent voices and are clever dancers. Good-good singing, dancing, banjo playing novelty acrobat, does a pleasing knockabout act. The Orpheumscope

FIREMEN "PUT ONE OVER" ON COUNCILMEN

It All Happened About 18 Years Ago and As Result Firemen Occupy Present Dormitory.

Few people remember, unless the fact is called to their attention, when the council chamber occupied a room in the city building which is now used by the firemen at the Central Station as a dormitory. In fact there are probably hundreds of people who never knew that many of the city's ordinances were enacted in the present sleeping quarters of the fire laddies. It is a fact never-the-less. And it is also an interesting fact that the meeting place of the city fathers was changed without their willing consent. In fact it was a case of the firemen "slipping one over" on the councilmen.

Inasmuch as there is no chance of getting any one in bad by repeating the story, it is "released for publication" as a newspaper man would put it. It all happened some fifteen or eighteen years ago. The fire laddies were cooped up in a little, dingy, unsanitary and uninviting room where they had barely room enough to dress, hurried as they often are when called in the middle of the night to respond to an alarm.

Chief Bausch, then a "youngster" in the department, figured on an improvement in the dormitory accommodations. He saw that the present council chamber was not used much and that it would make better quarters for the council than the room then occupied.

With some help, he drew up an ordinance, secured the aid of a councilman whom he knew he could trust and put the proposition up to him. The ordinance provided for making the change even to authorizing the expenditure of money for the carpenters.

On one busy night, when measures of considerable moment were being considered and the minds of the councilmen were fully taken up with these measures, this bill was dropped into the hopper.

In those days there were some pretty warm meetings and this one was no exception. There were several heated discussions from the floor of the council chamber regarding several measures. Each councilman had his mind concentrated on the measure before him and was most interested in it. When the clerk read the bill providing for the change in the council chamber, few grasped its import and when a motion was made to suspend the rules and pass the measure, there was no dissenting vote and the bill went through like it had been grease.

So the carpenters were engaged that night and bright and early on the following morning, the fire laddies were at work. The routine work about the station was dispensed with as far as possible, and every man set himself to moving the council chamber and occupying their new quarters.

By noon of that day, the desks, platform, railing and everything which marked the city's former legislative halls had been cleaned out and the neat beds of the firemen occupied the room which a brief 12 hours before had sounded with the "impassioned bursts of oratory" of the zealous city legislators.

It was all done so quickly that there were few of the councilmen knew about it. Indeed, many of them did not know of it until the following meeting night when they came downtown to attend a meeting.

There was some kicking of course, but after the matter settled down a bit the councilmen realized that the change was a good one. It not only provided comfortable quarters for the firemen, clean, roomy, sanitary and cheery, but it placed the council chamber in the part of the building where it belonged.

Before the change was made, there was no means of access to the council chamber from the clerk's office except by way of the stairway and the street. Now it was but a few steps from the clerk's desk to the council room and the convenience was much appreciated at that time.

Speaking of the dormitory, Chief Bausch recalled that a part of it was once the stage of the "town hall," and his story of the interesting inscriptions on the walls will recall to many of the older inhabitants the time when many of the old time actors trod the boards before a select audience of Newark's old residents.

The stage was surrounded by numerous dressing rooms, hardly larger than ward robes, but large enough to answer the purposes for the actors of those days were not so particular about their dressing rooms as the present day entertainers.

When the room was converted into a council chamber, these dressing rooms were torn out and the walls were papered. A few years after the firemen moved into their new quarters they decided to fresco the walls with a sanitary preparation which could be readily cleaned. The boys went to work with willing hands and soon had all the paper soaked from the plaster and scraped off.

And lo! There was a list of practically every actor of note, who had ever appeared on the stage—and the names of many more who were not so noted.

What a story the names of these actors would tell if some one familiar with their records and the incidents relating to their appearance here could translate them for the Advocate readers. Unfortunately these names have all been obliterated with a coat of wall decoration which can be removed, and like the burned pages of a record, they are gone forever, except as some of the details are carried in the memory of the "oldest inhabitant."

FIRST THINGS

The first trade union in the United States was incorporated in New York 109 years ago today. It was the Society of Journeymen Shipwrights, and had a considerable membership in the metropolis. Three years later, in 1808, the House Carpenters of New York formed a union. The organized labor movement gained little further ground until 1817, when the printers of New York organized the New York Typographical Society. It was not until 1825 that unions, extending beyond the bounds of a single city were organized. From that time on, with the extension of the factory system, labor societies constantly increased in membership and influence. The International Typographical Union, which dates back to 1830, is the oldest existing American trade union. The first "union of the unions" was projected in 1869, when the Knights of Labor was organized, although previously, in Baltimore in 1866, the Baltimore and New York labor bodies had held a meeting to form a national federation. It was in the latter convention that plans were made that a great union should be developed into the present powerful American Federation of Labor, which has superseded the once influential Knights of Labor. The Federation is now composed of 115 national and international unions, with about 2,700,000 local unions, and a total membership of 2,000,000. Besides the organizations affiliated with the Federation, there are several great railroad unions and a Socialistic federation known as "Industrial Workers of the world."

FOUND DYNAMITE INSTEAD OF THE EXPECTED BOOZE

While searching for booze at the home of Eli Strunk, a foreigner, in Seroco avenue Tuesday afternoon, officers found eight sticks of dynamite concealed in his trunk, together with ten or fifteen feet of fuse and a number of detonating caps.

The find startled the searchers considerably and they were at a loss to determine whether they had captured a yegg, an anarchist or just some innocent person who knew not that he was violating the law by having this explosive in his possession for other than lawful purposes.

The explosive was of low percentage such as is used for light blasting purposes, but the officers handled it gingerly and it was taken to headquarters and later transferred to the city prison. Strunk claims that he secured the dynamite while a member of a construction gang in Pennsylvania, and that he was saving it for use when he returned to the old country, where he expected to do some fishing on a large scale, using the dynamite in the creeks. He has lived in Newark for four years and claims to have had the explosive in his possession all this time. The police claim that foreigners have been dynamiting South Fork to secure fish and it is their belief that Strunk had used the dynamite for this purpose.

He was locked up, charged with selling liquor without a license but was not prosecuted on this charge, an affidavit being filed against him for concealing the dynamite. He was held to the grand jury under $500 bond.

MASONS ARE SUBSCRIBING FOR TEMPLE

Meeting Will Be Held Next Week, at Which Revised Sketches Will Be Shown.

The men in charge of raising funds for the Masonic temple are busy sifting all Masons and interesting them in the proposition. Up to this time responses have been had from probably one hundred men in addition to those who pledged themselves at the meeting when the plans were outlined. The workers report that great interest and enthusiasm is being shown by practically every man approached. At a meeting next week Architect Redding will present preliminary sketches, into which he has incorporated the various suggestions and changes advised by the committee. After the final plans have been approved and accepted, it will take some little time to perfect them and when finished they must be submitted to state officials, so it will probably be about six weeks after they are finally accepted by the committee before active work will commence on the building.

SCHOOL BOARD DISCUSSED SITES FOR BUILDINGS

The Board of Education held a regular meeting on Tuesday night with all members present except Mr. Broome and the matter of selecting sites for the new buildings consumed nearly all the time of the meeting. The lots in the North End will amount to about $2,700, in the South End $10,600, and in the West End, $3,900.

The board received a number of communications and Truant Officer Handel made his report as to absentees, truants and repairs and the report was ordered filed.

The matter of sites was then taken up and for the North End building the board has selected a site east of the railroad lying between Stevens street on the south, Bolton avenue on the north and Maple on the east. One of the lots is owned by Charles E. Livingston, and he values it at $400, while two are owned by Baugher and McGrunder and are valued at $1,000, and three by William Bergin valued at $1,300.

In the West End the board will purchase the site owned by Howard E. Osborn lying between Grant avenue on the north, Burt avenue on the south and having a frontage on each street of 165 ft. It runs 234 feet from street to street. The board tried to purchase the lots for $3,500 but the owner held for $3,900, which will probably be paid.

For South Newark the new school building will be located on the present site of the Fifth street school and on the lots adjoining the south of the present location. The next lot to the building on the south is 496 and is owned by Edward L. Graef and James Linehan, lot 497 is owned by the heirs of the late Patrick Smith and the board also contemplates buying lots 498 and 499, owned by C. E. Comer, owing to the smallness of the space without them and the cramped conditions of the grounds. With all these lots the site will be 200 feet deep running from Fifth street back to the alley and running 300 feet north and south along Fifth street. This would give splendid play grounds for the children. The aggregate cost will probably be $10,000 as there are buildings on four of the lots. However the board has been offered $400 each for two of the buildings. The purchase however has not been settled. The board appointed the following committee to interview the owners and get the prices: President Kilber, C. L. Conrad and W. E. Miller.

A number of ballots were again taken on the clerkship but without result.

WELL KNOWN MEN

The Advocate accepts no payment for notices published under the heading "Well Known Men." Space in this department is not for sale under any circumstances. Many of the illustrations are made from photographs furnished by friends or those who are mentioned.

Ex-Councilman Hermann Elsner is one of the well known progressive business men of the northern part of the city. He is the proprietor of a grocery store at Hoover and Buckingham streets where he has been located for several years. He has served several terms as city councilman and was one of that body's most earnest and conscientious members.

IMPROVEMENTS AT WEIANT & CRAWMER'S

Weiand & Crammer are just completing improvements in their bakery and confectionery store at 38 North Third street, which make this famous Newark store one of the finest in the state.

The retail department has been redecorated throughout, the walls having a dark green background, heavily embossed in gold. A number of new floor cases have been added, showing to advantage the splendid array of confections on one side and the appetizing line of choice, freshly baked cakes, etc., on the other. The improvements will not stop here, but will continue on, back, extending through every part of the big bakery. This has been a leading business house in Newark for the past 25 years, and today it continues one of the handsomest and busiest stores. Three bakers are constantly employed on cakes alone.

Charges Abuse.

By her attorneys, McDonald & Moore, Bertha McCoy has filed a petition in probate court praying for a divorce from Daniel McCoy. In her petition the plaintiff alleges serious inconstancy on the part of the defendant, as well as abuse and gross neglect of duty. She asks for alimony and that the B & O R. R. Co. be enjoined from paying the defendant $80 due him in wages.
